

THE CONFLUENCE SERIES

Voices of Resilience in the Currents of Change

October 5th
10 am - 4 pm

Free & Open to the Public

Meet at

Rooks Park

498 Rooks Park Rd
Walla Walla, WA

The Geology of Mill Creek

Community Field Trip with Bob Carson

Join us for a guided trip up Mill Creek, where the land tells stories of deep time. Trace the valley's dramatic geology, from ancient basalt flows to modern floods. Experience the landscape, connect with others and gain a rich understanding of the forces that shape our home.

- Trip will involve a few stops and a short hike
- Bring hiking boots, jacket, water and a snack
- Plan to carpool. We encourage everyone to offer open seats or jump in an empty one

Visit the event page for more details, contact information and to sign up.

BOB CARSON

Professor of Geology and Environmental Studies Emeritus at Whitman College. Passionate forest steward, researcher and author.

Books include Hiking Guide to Washington Geology, Where the Great River Bends, Many Waters, and The Blues

RSVP

Photo © Duane Scroggins

TheConfluenceSeries.org